Is it time for the US to adopt a registration system for the protection of the appearance of useful articles? Should the US have a system similar to the European Community Design or Australian Designs Act 2003 or South Korea's design act? Should we simply amend the current Copyright or Design Patent Laws to remedy some of the deficiencies in our existing laws? Please join our committee as we debate the benefits and detriments of addition of a design registration system to US law. You will also have the opportunity to propose language that may eventually be codified into US law. Join us and help make a difference in the Industrial Designs world.
