

WORLD IP DAY 2015 - GET UP, STAND UP. FOR MUSIC.

MAY 7TH | 5:00 PM
SALESFORCE | HILLSBORO OR

With the rapid growth of the digital economy, the intellectual property rights of musicians have been put to the test. The World Intellectual Property Organization is holding a series of events around the country to bring awareness of the role intellectual property has in encouraging innovation and creativity. Join us on May 7th as we celebrate World Intellectual Property Day with a musical twist!

This evening event will start with a panel discussion followed by a musical presentation from Chasing Mischief.

Panel:

- John Cabeca, Director, U.S. Patent & Trademark Office, Silicon Valley
- Kim Van Voorhis, Assistant General Counsel, IP Litigation, Nike, Inc.
- Amuseology - invited
- Vadio - invited
- Salesforce - invited

Come join us for a fun and fascinating evening. Network with colleagues, learn more about the interplay of intellectual property and music, and enjoy a live band, all in one of the most innovative spaces in the area (camper pods! paint-can ceilings!).

Event Details:

When: Thursday, May 7th

Where: Salesforce, 2035 Northwest Cornelius Pass Road, Hillsboro, OR

Timeline: 5:00 PM -- 8:00 PM

5:00 PM -- Registration and Networking

5:30 PM -- Panel Discussion

6:30 PM -- Networking Reception/Live Musical Performance from Chasing Mischief

Cost: $10 – Includes heavy appetizers and wine & beer bar

Register at: www.techoregon.org

Supported by:

