

Matthias Reischle

Deputy Director, PCT Legal Division, WIPO

Matthias Reischle, a national of Germany, is Deputy Director of the PCT Legal Division of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO). Matthias holds a degree from the University of Constance, Germany (1993), and a LL.M in European Legal Studies from the College of Europe, Belgium (1994). After qualifying to practice law in Germany in 1996, he worked as a legal adviser for the International Labour Organization in Geneva. Since joining the staff of the PCT Legal Division in 1998, he has participated in the drafting and implementation of various amendments to the Regulations under the PCT and other PCT-related texts such as the Administrative Instructions, various Guidelines, and publications such as the PCT Applicant's Guide and the PCT Newsletter. He regularly participates in training courses, seminars and international-level meetings on the PCT and advises applicants and their representatives concerning PCT procedure.

Michael Neas is the Deputy Director of the International Patent Legal Administration (formerly PCT Legal) at the United States Patent & Trademark Office. Mr. Neas' staff provides training on the filing and prosecution of PCT and U.S. national stage applications to inventors, applicants, patent practitioners and paralegals. His staff also provides training on the PCT to patent examiners and paralegals at the USPTO and provides direct assistance on PCT and U.S. national stage applications via the PCT Help Desk. Mr. Neas' duties also include resolving legal issues involving the PCT, including petitions to the Commissioner in PCT and U.S. national stage applications. Mr. Neas also participates in international meetings and projects such as PCT Reform, PCT Working Group, Meetings of International Authorities, Patent Prosecution Highway and Trilateral and IP5 Cooperation. Mr. Neas has spoken extensively on the PCT to organizations such as the AIPLA, local bar associations and foreign IP Offices. Mr. Neas came to the USPTO in 1989 as a patent examiner. He became a Special Programs Examiner in PCT Legal in 2000 and took his current position in 2006. Mr. Neas has a Bachelor of Science in mechanical engineering from North Carolina State University.

Ann Bardini, a national of the United Kingdom, is Senior Business Analyst at the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) where she has worked since 1990. As Head of the PCT Functional Support Section, she was responsible for the specification of the business requirements, process re-engineering and deployment strategy for the International Bureau's electronic processing system that led to a fully paperless environment for PCT Operations at WIPO. Since joining the PCT Business Development Division in 2009, she has been leading the business requirements for the design and implementation of the ePCT system, including its subsequent graphical user interface redesign and integration into the soon-to-be-launched WIPO IP Portal.

Carl Oppedahl

Oppedahl Patent Law Firm LLC
www.oppedahl.com
carl@oppedahl.com

Carl Oppedahl is a partner in the Oppedahl Patent Law Firm LLC in Broomfield, Colorado.

Carl has been doing intellectual property law for over twenty years. He has written and prosecuted hundreds of patent applications, including US and PCT applications.

He served a three-year term on the Board of Directors of the American Intellectual Property Owner's association. He is now a Fellow of the AIPLA. He is a past chair of the PCT Issues Committee of the AIPLA.

Carl Oppedahl received his law degree from Harvard and has a bachelor's degree from Grinnell College. As you can see in the WIPO PCT Newsletter, he serves many times per year as a consultant for WIPO, speaking on behalf of WIPO about PCT for seminars and CLE programs across the United States.

Carl was the first person ever to e-file a PCT application through RO/US.

Carl was the first person ever to e-file a PCT application using ePCT.

Albert Keyack

Albert Keyack is a Vice President at Kilburn and Strode. He most recently served as the European Patent Office Attaché to the U.S. and prior to that served as the U.S. Attaché to Latin America, based in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Mr Keyack began his career in at a boutique patent law firm in Philadelphia. He has also practiced in general practice law firms and served as in-house counsel for both large companies and start-ups in Silicon Valley. He has counselled clients in all types of matters involving patents across a broad array of technologies as well as in a variety of transactional matters, including mergers and acquisitions, financing and patent licensing. Albert earned a degree in Engineering from Villanova University and a law degree from the Rutgers University. He resides in Arlington, VA, just outside Washington, DC.

Mark Guetlich

Mark Guetlich is Chief IP Counsel at the emerging technology startup Viziv Technologies. Mr. Guetlich has held previous government, industry, and law practice positions as Senior Counsel for International Policy and Government Affairs at the USPTO, founder of the Global IP Group, PLLC advising law firms in India and US, VP Managing Director of Patents at the SAP AG headquarters in Walldorf, Germany, and Director of International Patents and Licensing for Microsoft in Redmond, Washington. Mr. Guetlich's engineering career was as a Member of the Technical Staff at AT&T Bell Laboratories in Denver, Colorado. Mr. Guetlich holds a Juris Doctor from University of Denver, and a Master of Science in Computer Science and Bachelor of Science in Education.

Mary Drabnis

Mary Drabnis is an attorney at McGlinchey Stafford PLLC. She has written patent applications on a variety of different subjects, concentrating on chemistry. Areas of chemistry in which she has written patents include catalysis, biocides, curatives for polyurethanes, coatings, agricultural chemicals, flame retardants, and oilfield chemicals. Mary worked as a technical consultant and then as a Patent Agent at John F. Sieberth & Associates (which became Sieberth & Patty, L.L.C, and later merged with McGlinchey Stafford PLLC). Ms. Drabnis received her J.D. from Louisiana State University. She earned a Ph.D. in Chemistry from the University of Southern California, and her Bachelor's degree in Chemistry from Rutgers University (New Brunswick).