INNOVATE AUTHOR ACKNOWLEDGEMENT LETTER

Dear Author:

Thank you for agreeing to author a feature article for The American Intellectual Property Law Association's [AIPLA] INNOVATE, an e-magazine compendium of member-authored articles.

In connection with your article, please submit:
1. Your signed acknowledgement letter;
2. A professional photo; and,
3. A short biographical profile.

Please send all items directly to AIPLA offices:
Attention: Kimberly Sides
Membership Coordinator, AIPLA
Email: innovate@aipla.org

By returning a signed copy of this letter, you agree to its terms, to submit a feature article and to provide the above-listed items.

You grant AIPLA permission to publish your article and certain limited, non-exclusive rights as listed below. All rights not specifically granted to AIPLA below are reserved to you.

1. The right and license to reproduce, distribute, transmit (including, but not limited to on AIPLA's website) under the auspices of AIPLA and authorize others to do so.
2. The right to use your name if we so choose, and your likeness, as being a contributing author to INNOVATE, and to authorize others to do so.
3. The right to edit the transcript or other fixation of your article provided the edited version is submitted to you for comment prior to any distribution of such edited version.

You represent that you have (1) the rights to submit your written material, and (2) the full power to grant the above rights. Should you or the AIPLA require permission for their use, you will obtain that permission. Your representations and grant of rights, as set forth herein, will benefit AIPLA, its successors, assigns, licenses, and contractors.

Again, thank you for agreeing to submit an article to INNOVATE. We greatly appreciate your willingness to support the success of our first edition, and look forward to your article.

Sincerely,
Kimberly Sides
Membership Coordinator, AIPLA
