

109TH CONGRESS
2^D SESSION

S. 3175

To amend title 35, United States Code, with respect to establishing procedures for granting authority to the Under Secretary for Commerce for Intellectual Property and Director of the Patent and Trademark Office to grant compulsory patent licenses for exporting patented pharmaceutical products to certain countries consistent with international commitments made by the United States, and for other purposes.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

MAY 25, 2006

Mr. LEAHY introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary

A BILL

To amend title 35, United States Code, with respect to establishing procedures for granting authority to the Under Secretary for Commerce for Intellectual Property and Director of the Patent and Trademark Office to grant compulsory patent licenses for exporting patented pharmaceutical products to certain countries consistent with international commitments made by the United States, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “Life-Saving Medicines
3 Export Act of 2006”.

4 SEC. 2. PURPOSES AND FINDINGS.

5 (a) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this Act is to promote 6 public health by permitting the export of life-saving phar-7 maceutical products and other medicines manufactured in 8 the United States by compulsory license to residents of 9 participating countries with insufficient or no manufac-10 turing capability in the pharmaceutical sector for the 11 product in question consistent with the General Council
12 Decision of the World Trade Organization.

13 (b) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

14 (1) The United States Trade Representative re-
15 cently announced that it “welcomes” the World
16 Trade Organization amendment to “allow countries
17 to override patent rights when necessary to export
18 life-saving drugs to developing countries that face 19 public health crises but cannot produce drugs for 20 themselves.”. United States Ambassador Portman 21 called this “a landmark achievement that we hope 22 will help developing countries.”.

23 (2) Compulsory licensing of patents is a “fix-24 ture in almost all patent systems” in the world as 25 noted in the Berkeley Technology Law Journal in 26 2003. By the end of the 1950s, for example, an esti-

1 mated 40,000 to 50,000 compulsory licenses were 2 issued regarding patents in the United States. (Ac-
3 cess to Patented Medicine in Developing Countries,
4 F.M. Scherer, www.cmhealth.org/docswg4; World
5 Health Organization). Indeed, the WHO paper notes
6 that the “United States has led the world in issuing 7 compulsory licenses to restore competition when vio-
8 lations of the antitrust laws have been found, or in 9 the negotiated settlement of antitrust cases before 10 full adjudication has occurred.”

11 (3) The vast majority of people living in devel-
12 oping countries or least developed nations have lim-
13 ited or no access to many medicines that are saving 14 and extending lives of those in other, more developed 15 nations. Since sales of the patented, brand-name
16 versions of such medicines are minimal or non-exist-
17 ent in many impoverished regions of the world pro-18 viding generic versions of those medicines under the 19 WTO General Council Decision will have minimal
20 impact on the sales of brand-name, patented 21 versions in such regions.

22 (4) The World Health Organization has esti-
23 mated that $\frac{1}{3}$ of the world’s population lacks reg-24 ular access to essential medicines, including

1 antiretroviral drugs, and that a number of essential 2 medicines are under patent.

3 (5) Medicines and vaccines are needed through-4 out the world to combat newly arising public health
5 threats such as the avian flu. A United States Na-
6 tional Intelligence Estimate in January 2000 notes
7 that “New and emerging infectious diseases will pose 8 a rising global health threat...”.

9 (6) Millions of people with HIV/AIDS in devel-10 oping countries need antiretroviral drugs. More than 11 40,000,000 people worldwide have HIV and 95 per-12 cent of them live in developing countries. Malaria, 13 tuberculosis, and other infectious diseases kill mil-
14 lions of people a year in developing nations.

15 (7) Comprehensive reports of the World Health 16 Organization of the United Nations, in 2004 and 17 2005 detail the urgent need for pharmaceutical 18 products in developing countries and in least devel-
19 oped nations.

20 (8) The World Trade Organization decisions of 21 August 30, 2003, on access to generic medicines is 22 now being considered by member nations of the 23 World Trade Organization for ratification as a per-24 manent amendment to the WTO Agreement on

1 Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property
2 Rights.

3 SEC. 3. EXPORTATION OF PHARMACEUTICAL PRODUCTS

17 “(1) manufacturing and exporting to an eligible 18 country, (including using nongovernmental agencies
19 to assist in handling and distribution to eligible 20 countries) such pharmaceutical products, including 21 exporting for the purpose of foreign testing and cer-

17 by the World Health Organization of the 18 United Nations or the United States Food and 19 Drug Administration; and

20 “(B) shall be manufactured solely for ex-
21 port to the eligible country listed in the applica-22 tion under subsection (c); and

23 “(C) shall not be exported to any other 24 country except for nation parties to a regional

1 trade agreement as set forth in paragraph 6(i)
2 of the General Council Decision.

3 “(2) The pharmaceutical product, or the label
4 or packaging of the pharmaceutical product, for ex-5 port shall be—

6 “(A) clearly identified as being produced
7 under the system set out in the General Council 8 Decision; and

9 “(B) distinguished from the pharma-
10 ceutical product or its label or packaging manu-
11 factured by the patent holder through labeling, 12 shaping, sizing, marking, special packaging, or 13 other means or combinations of means, which 14 shall be consistent with paragraph 2(b)(ii) of 15 the General Council Decision and include—

16 “(i) a statement that such pharma-
17 ceutical product has been manufactured
18 solely for export to the specific eligible 19 country or to nation parties to a regional 20 trade agreement as provided for in para-
21 graphs 6(i) and 6(ii) of the General Coun-
22 cil Decision and is not approved for mar-
23 keting in the United States;

24 “(ii) a statement indicating that the 25 pharmaceutical product is subject to a

1 compulsory license issued to the generic
2 manufacturer; and

3 “(iii) any other markings determined
4 appropriate by the Director to distinguish
5 such pharmaceutical product from the pat-
6 ented pharmaceutical product, which may 7 include a different trademark name or dis-8 tinctive color or shaping, so long as—

9 “(I) such distinction is feasible
10 and does not have a significant impact 11 on price and will not undermine the 12 humanitarian purposes of the Life-
13 Saving Medicines Export Act of 2006;
14 and

15 “(II) the Director may tempo-16 rarily waive the requirements of the 17 distinguishing marks under urgent 18 circumstances for limited quantities of 19 such pharmaceutical products.

20 “(3) The term of such compulsory license shall 21 expire on the date that is the earliest of—

22 “(A) 7 years after the date of issuance of 23 the license;

24 “(B) the date the importing country is no 25 longer an eligible country; or

1 “(C) on a petition from the original patent
2 holder, on the date that the Director, in con-
3 sultation with the National Advisory Board on 4 Implementation of the General Council Decision
5 established under section 5 of the Life-Saving 6 Medicines Export Act of 2006, determines that 7 the circumstances that have led to the granting 8 of the license cease to exist and it appears prob-
9 able that such circumstances will not reoccur.

10 “(4) The licensee shall keep accurate records of 11 all quantities of products manufactured and distrib-
12 uted under its license and shall make such records
13 available upon request to an independent person 14 agreed to by the parties, or otherwise approved by 15 the Director, for the sole purpose of ensuring wheth-
16 er the terms of the license have been met.

17 “(5) A generic manufacturer issued a license
18 under this section may notify the Director if the es-
19 timated quantity of the pharmaceutical product set 20 forth in the application and subsection (c)(2)(B) will 21 be insufficient to meet the projected need during the 22 remainder of the license period. The Director shall 23 adjust the estimated quantity to the quantity pro-
24 posed by the licensee unless compelling evidence

1 demonstrates that the proposed quantity is exces-
2 sive.

3 “(e) COMPENSATION TO PATENT HOLDER.—

4 “(1) IN GENERAL.—The holder of a compulsory 5 license under this section shall pay to the patent 6 holder a royalty in an amount and by a date deter-7 mined by the Director that shall not be—

8 “(A) earlier than the date of each ship-
9 ment for export of the pharmaceutical product 10 under the compulsory license; or

11 “(B) later than 45 days after the date of 12 each shipment.

13 “(2) AMOUNT OF ROYALTY.—In consultation
14 with the Secretary of Health and Human Services,
15 the Director of the National Institutes of Health,
16 the Director of the United States Agency for Inter-
17 national Development, and the Director of the Cen-
18 ters of Disease Control, the Director, when deter-19 mining a royalty amount under paragraph (1), shall 20 consider the following:

21 “(A) The provisions of paragraph 3 of the 22 General Council Decision and the need for the 23 licensee under this section to make a reasonable 24 return sufficient to sustain a continued partici-
25 pation in humanitarian objectives.

1 “(B) The humanitarian and noncommer-
2 cial reasons for issuing a compulsory license
3 under this section.

4 “(C) The economic value to the importing 5 country of the use that has been authorized by 6 the Director.

7 “(D) The need for low-cost pharmaceutical 8 products by persons in eligible countries.

9 “(E) Whether the importing country has a 10 patent applicable to the pharmaceutical product
11 sought to be imported under this section.

12 “(F) The ordinary levels of profitability in 13 the United States, of commercial agreements
14 involving pharmaceutical products, and any rel-15 evant international trends in relevant prices as 16 reported by the United Nations or other appro-
17 priate humanitarian organizations or agencies
18 for the supply of such products for humani-
19 tarian purposes.

20 “(3) ROYALTY RATE FORMULAS.—

21 “(A) IN GENERAL.—

22 “(i) FACTORS.—Except as provided in 23 subparagraph (B), the amount of the roy-
24 alty payable to any patentee under this 25 subsection—

1 “(I) shall be based on consider-2 ations under paragraph (2); and

3 “(II) shall not exceed the amount
4 determined by multiplying the com-
5 mercial value of the pharmaceutical 6 product to be exported under the sup-
7 ply agreement by 4 percent.

8 “(ii) MULTIPLE PATENTEES.—If more
9 than 1 patentee is due a royalty for a 10 pharmaceutical product under this section, 11 the amount of the royalty payable for the 12 pharmaceutical product shall be divided by 13 the number of patentees.

14 “(B) ALTERNATIVE ROYALTY RATE FOR-
15 MULA.—

16 “(i) IN GENERAL.—

17 “(I) ESTABLISHMENT AND 18 USE.—Subject to subclause (II), the 19 Director may establish and use an al-
20 ternative royalty rate formula under 21 this subparagraph instead of the roy-
22 alty rate formula under subparagraph
23 (A), if—

24 “(aa) the Director makes a
25 determination that the alter-

1 native royalty rate formula is 2 more appropriate or efficient to 3 employ; and

4 “(bb) the alternative royalty
5 rate formula is based on the 6 methodology described under 7 clauses (ii) through (v).

8 “(II) LIMITATION.—If the roy-
9 alty amount determined under the al-
10 ternative royalty rate formula under
11 subclause (I) exceeds the dollar 12 amount determined by multiplying the 13 commercial value of the pharma-
14 ceutical product to be exported under 15 the supply agreement by 4 percent the 16 royalty amount shall be set at such 17 dollar amount.

18 “(ii) HUMAN DEVELOPMENT INDEX
19 COUNTRIES.—If the name of the country
20 to which a pharmaceutical product is to be 21 delivered under this section is on the 22 Human Development Index maintained by 23 the United Nations Development Program,
24 the rate for calculation of the royalty to be

1 paid to any patentee shall be determined 2 by—

3 “(I) adding 1 to the total number
4 of countries listed on such Index;

5 “(II) subtracting from the sum
6 determined under subclause (I) the 7 numerical rank on the Index of the 8 country to which the pharmaceutical 9 product is to be exported;

10 “(III) dividing the difference de-11 termined under subclause (II) by the 12 total number of countries listed on the 13 Index; and

14 “(IV) multiplying the quotient
15 determined under subclause (III) by 16 0.04.

17 “(iii) SINGLE AND MULTIPLE PAT-
18 ENTEES.—For a country described under 19 clause (ii), the amount of the royalty pay-
20 able to any patentee shall be determined—

21 “(I) if there is only 1 patentee,
22 by multiplying the total monetary 23 value of the agreement pertaining to 24 the pharmaceutical product to be ex-
25 ported under this section by the roy-

1 alty rate determined in accordance 2 with clause (ii); and

3 “(II) if there is more than 1 pat-
4 entee, by dividing the amount deter-
5 mined under subclause (I) by the 6 number of patentees.

7 “(iv) COUNTRIES NOT ON HUMAN DE-
8 VELOPMENT INDEX.—If the name of the 9 country to which a pharmaceutical product
10 is to be delivered under this section is not 11 on the Human Development Index main-
12 tained by the United Nations Development 13 Program, the Director shall—

14 “(I) determine if relevant cir-
15 cumstances in that country are rea-
16 sonably similar to another country on 17 that Human Development Index;

18 “(II) if determining a similar
19 country under subclause (I), use the
20 procedures under clause (ii) to deter-
21 mine a royalty payment using the nu-
22 merical rank of that other country;
23 and

24 “(III) if determining a royalty
25 rate under subclause (II), state the

1 reasons for making the determination
2 that the country to which the product
3 is to be exported was reasonably simi-
4 lar to the country on such Index used
5 in the calculation.

6 “(v) REGIONAL TRADE AGREE-
7 MENTS.—If the Director knows during re-
8 view of an application that the pharma-9 ceutical products are to be delivered under 10 this section to parties to a regional trade
11 agreement where re-exportation is allowed
12 under paragraph 6(i) and (ii) of the Gen-13 eral Council Decision, the Director shall—

14 “(I) determine if relevant cir-
15 cumstances in those countries are rea-16 sonably similar to a country on the 17 Human Development Index;

18 “(II) if determining a similar
19 country under subclause (I), use the
20 procedures under clause (ii) to deter-
21 mine a royalty payment based on the 22 numerical rank of that other country;
23 and

24 “(III) if determining a royalty
25 rate under subclause (III), shall state

1 the reasons for making the determina-
2 tion that the countries to which the 3 products are to be re-exported under 4 paragraph 6(i) and (ii) of such Deci-5 sion were reasonably similar to the 6 country selected on such Index.

7 “(4) NOTICE OF SHIPMENTS.—Before each
8 shipment of any product manufactured under this 9 section, the manufacturer shall, within 15 days be-10 fore such product is exported, provide notice through 11 registered mail specifying the approximate quantity 12 to be exported to—

13 “(A) the patentee;
